“Trina were "Besties" before it was a trend or hashtag. Now, in my 50s, clearly, I have never forgotten about you. How could I? We did everything, and I do mean EVERYTHING together Sis! Even freezing to death walking to and from school (Ada H. H. Lewis), 7th Grade Mr. Lyons homeroom class. I imagine, your grandparents have passed now. I still remember you used to call your grandfather "Honey" because you would hear your grandmother call him that when he walked in the door from work! Ha! Lol... That's just how much you have crossed my mind & will forever have a special place in my life Frenn.

I remember your grandparents warm reception & kindness, because as you are well aware... I didn't receive a lot of that, growing up. That's one of the reasons why I will never forget you. Because they raised you to have that same empathy and compassion for people. You had a heart of gold, Trina.

Looking back to nearly 40 years ago, knowing what I know now about life(especially, stuff we couldn't possibly begin to comprehend as tweens), I know now, that it was pure jealousy and envy of our friendship, that ultimately ended our friendship. Doing some heavy shadow work for the last eight years, I have often struggled with what had I ever done to Lorena and the other Katrina, that would justify them(mainly Lorena) being so hell bent on destroying our friendship? At 52, turning 53 this month, I now overstand what that was all about.

Lorena wanted a friendship like ours. She smiled and laughed in our faces-all the while, she coveted OUR friendship. What Lorena M. did was carry out a smear campaign against me .That's why she broke her neck to tell me what your grandmother said about us, remaining besties. She led your grandma to believe I had ill intentions for you, all of a sudden. The TRUE, ie. REAL FRIENDS I have had in my lifetime Trina, YOU will always be the first! Today, I don't use the word "Friend" or "Bestie" loosely. I have learned through trial and error the difference between a friend, an associate, and a foe.

As an Intuitive Scorpio INFJ personality type, I'm grateful for every life lesson I have had to learn, incl. painful ones. Your obituary photo/image is just as I remember you Sis. It pains me, to know you are no longer here. The only BFF I had after you, passed away in 2023 October. She reminded me of you so much, I believe that is what triggered me to Google your name. Her tragic death traumatized me very badly.

*After a very nasty divorce, my best friend suddenly passing away-of all days, on my son's birthday, I doubt I ever will fully recover from that. Not in my lifetime. Yet, It forced me take a hiatus from everything and everyone to make healing my childhood traumas a priority. It's impossible to unpack my childhood and you not come to mind. Other than those to evil ***expletives***, & the roles they played, I cannot recall not one negative experience, when it comes to you Trina. You, your grandmother, grandfather & cousin Ericka treated me like family! Even your mom! Lol She was W-I-L-D Imbo You looked just like her!*

Last time I seen you, at Broad & Erie, you looked like her twin, literally. It was then, as we were talking(I remember how happy I was to bump into you coming out of that store!) but, I saw/heard a change in you. I was taken aback because you sounded more like your mom, than the Trina I had been BFFS with in Jr. High School.

What I inner-stand now Frenn is how impressionable we were back then, and what extent bullying and peer pressure played into so much of who we were or wanted to be(like). You were so smart, you were actually in MG classes. MG ie, Mentally Gifted! (lol, YES, I remember). That's how you were acquainted with the other Katrina She was a follower. Lorena's 'Do-Girl'. At the end of the day, what Lorena really wanted, was to be to & for you, what I was to you and for you. She wanted OUR friendship, Sis. I love you, Trina Rell Well, Baby💔
